ON CATSKILL HEIGHTS.

Catekill, N. Y., July 15 (Special) -- Charming weather conditions continue to prevail in the Catskill Mountains, and visitors are pouring in at both ends of the range in large numbers. The favorite Catskill Mountain Limited train of the Ulster & Catskill Mountain Limited train of the Ulster & Delaware road often comes in with six parlet coaches loaded, and it requires two engines to get the train up the hills. The trains on the Catskill Meuntain Road from this village are also long and heavy, and the big Day Line beats land crowds at Kingston and Catskill daily.

The popular Haines Falls region is already crowded with visitors, and there are many trains stopping at the stations of the two railways every day. This makes it one of the livelest spots in the mountains. The various parks and the many large hotels occasion much traffic.

Hotel Kaaterskill has an unusual number of guests for July, and there are much gayety and life at this great resort. The athletic fields on that airy creat have been placed in fine condition, and those fond of outdoor sports may find ample facilities. Boating and fishing at Kaaterskill Lake are much enjoyed.

ties. Boating and fishing at Knaterskill Lake are much enjoyed.

It was said the big Grand Hotel, in the Western Catskills, opened with fifteen guests about two weeks ago, but this would have to be multiplied many times to cover the number there new. The manager is smiling complacently over his prospects at that popular and fashfomable resort.

F. N. DuBois is at his mansion and farm on the heights in South Catskill, as usual, with his family. A novel social affair in the old Schebarie region recently was a "white elephant party," to which every invited guest was asked to bring some afticle, which, though of no use to them personally, was still too good to be thrown away. Only women were invited, and out of the nineteen who apticle, which, though of me use to them personally, was still too good to be thrown away. Only women were invited, and out of the nineteen who appeared eleven took their husbands. But everybody had a good time, and the vilage gossips enjoyed the sensation occasioned.

Walton Van Loan, the Catskill map maker and genial guide, has been staying at the Mountain House with his wife.

Mrs. A. E. Snyder, of Hoboken, mother of President Snyder of the Catskill Evening Line, is with friends at the Woodmere, in Catskill, as usual. The many Pine Hill resorts are now nearly filled with visitors, and a room there will soon be hard to find. Mrs. Lieberman, of New York, is at the Cornish House for her thirteenth season.

The unusual number of automobiles in the Catskills this season is causing some annoyance to carriage parties and pedestrians on the mountain roads. Most of the roadways in the Uister and Delaware valleys have been improved by the state making many miles of the runs for the "auto cars. The matin difficulty is that many of these powerful machines are driven by careless chauferers, who run at reckless sneed, with little or no

RICHFIELD AFFAIRS.

Many Visitors Seek Freedom from Aches and Pains.

Richfield Springs, N. Y., July 13 (Special).-Many cures are each year effected at the bathing establishment, and Richfield is annually the mecca of many sufferers from gout and rheumatism, who find freedom from aches and pains in the strong smelling waters. There is a notable number of Spanish-Americans in Richfield this season. Senor and Sefora del Rio, of Havana, have been at the Kendallwood since May. Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Ferrer, of New York, have joined the number, as has also Mrs. W. A. Kirkland, of Brooklyn, widow of Rear Admiral Kirkland, U. S. N., but herself a South American woman. All these are at the Kendallwood, while at the Berkeley-Waiontha are a family of Porto Ricans, Mr. and Mrs. William Korber and three daughters.

THE ALGONQUIN.

Wawbeek, N. Y., July 13 (Special).—The tennis players who each season make the Wawbeek their headquarters have this summer taken an early start with their series of tournaments. The finals of the men's singles in one just closed were won by Dr. O. S. Wightman, of New York, who has apartments at the Wawbeek for the season. I. Perels, also of New York, was the runner-up. Dr. Wightman has been as successful at fishing as at tennis, and the other day returned from a short fishing expedition with a fine string of lake trout, including one weighing seven and a half pounds. There is much interest in motor boating at this end of the Upper Suranac Lake.

A. L. White, who is having a fine new boathouse hullt at his camp on Deer Island, has recently purchased a new high power motor boat. Dr. O. S. Wightman has his speedy power boat again in commission.
